

What the invention claimed is:

1. A communication peripheral apparatus automatic line searcher comprising a CPU (central processing unit) connected to two ring detectors, two hold detectors, two in-use detectors and a loop detector, said ring detectors, hold detectors and in-use detectors being respectively connected to a first telephone line and a second telephone line, said first telephone line and said second telephone line being respectively connected to contacts of a first relay, said first relay having a center contact connected to the normal-close contact of a second relay.

2. The of claim 1, wherein said second relay has a normal-open contact connected to a phone power for line busy indication.